Rotary International Is 70 Years Old

Holland Rotary Honors Dr. Hines

The 70th birthday anniversary of Rotary International was celebrated by the Holland club Thursday noon and local members marked the occasion by naming 87-year-old Dr. Herbert W. Hines a Paul Harris Fellow in recognition of his years in promoting scholarships abroad for college students.

The event also marked another milestone for the Holland club in that it became a member of the 200 Per Cent Club, which means that it has contributed $20 per member to the Rotary Foundation Club which finances not only scholarships but meets many other needs.

Dr. Hines who came to Holland in 1963 has had a full and varied career. A native of Boston, he received degrees from Harvard University, Westminster College and the University of Chicago. Before obtaining his higher degrees, he served as a Baptist minister in Central Illinois from 1915 to 1935. His involvement with Rotary spans 53 years.

While working on his Ph. D. degree in Chicago, he expressed hopes of organizing personal European tours for church-college young people while addressing a Rotary Club in Springfield, Ill., and out of this suggestion came an invitation to join the Rotary International Secretariat staff in Evanston, Ill., to develop an international understanding program for youth as part of Rotary's international service objectives.

His 15 years with the Secretariat staff saw not only the development of the scholarship program but the organization of a speakers forum which provided outstanding speakers for high school assemblies, Rotary functions, etc.

In 1951 he became president of Rocky Mountain College in Billings, Mont., and in 1958 went to Morningside College in Sioux City, Iowa, as Professor of Languages and Humanities. In 1963 he came to Holland and taught Russian at Hope College. He speaks several languages fluently.

The band's next public performance will be on April 20, at West Ottawa High School. This concert will be in conjunction with the Symphonic Band and Wind Ensemble of West Ottawa High School.

Dr. Hines is the third Paul Harris fellow in the state. The first was a Grand Rapids member by the name of Jerry Ford and the second was a Traverse City Rotarian.

In being named a Paul Harris fellow, Dr. Hines was presented with a framed certificate, a medal and pin. Joining Holland President Don Stoltz in the presentation were Doug Smith, a member of the staff of Rotary International for nine years who still maintains his membership in the Montague-Whitehall Rotary Club, and Ralph Van Volkinburg of Grand Haven, district governor. Dr. Hines also has served as a district governor.

Congratulations also came in a letter from Harry A. Stewart, international secretary, joining in a fitting tribute "exemplifying a life of 'Service Above Self.'"

Mayor Lou Hallacy brought greetings.

Cornie Steketee, past president, narrated a slide presentation on Rotary's 70 years of public service, promoting peace, tolerance and good will among nations in 150 lands, its 750,000 membership representing all businesses and professions.

The Paul Harris fellowship is named for Rotary's founder, a Chicago attorney who initiated Rotary functions in 1905.

His 15 years with the Secretariat staff saw not only the development of the scholarship program but the organization of a speakers forum which provided outstanding speakers for high school assemblies, Rotary functions, etc.

In 1951 he became president of Rocky Mountain College in Billings, Mont., and in 1958 went to Morningside College in Sioux City, Iowa, as Professor of Languages and Humanities. In 1963 he came to Holland and taught Russian at Hope College. He speaks several languages fluently.

Wins Allegan District Race

ALLEGAN — Democrat John J. Funk scored an upset in Tuesday's election in normally republican District 5 as he defeated republican Robert Immink for a vacancy on the County Board of Commissioners.

The district represents the townships of Valley, Heath, Overisel and Salem.

Funk received 331 votes compared to the 263 for Immink. About 20 per cent of the 3,074 registered voters in the district went to the polls.

Funk will fill the unexpired term of Kenneth Rynbrandt who died. The term runs through Dec. 31, 1976.

Funk is from Dorr and was a member of the local school board for 13 years and a member of the board of review and elections board.

He ran as a write-in candidate in the primary and received 80 votes and the right to appear on the general election ballot.

Immink was named interim commissioner by the other members of the board last December and defeated Marvin Brower in the Republican primary election.

A car driven by Gerald Jr. Hossink, 47, of 550 East End Dr., backing from his driveway Monday at 10:07 a.m., struck a truck which had pulled into the driveway and operated by Lambert W. Maas, Jr., 38, of 345 East 40th St.

A car operated by Sue Ann White, 23, of 92 East 21st St., backing from a driveway along 14th St., 250 feet east of Columbia Ave. struck a fire hydrant Friday at 2:28 p.m.

Leon Fisher, Dog, Found In Room

Fire gutted a second floor apartment in a residence at 10 East 15th St. Friday night claiming the life of Leon Fisher, 39, and his pet dog.

Fire officials said Fisher and his dog were found in a bedroom on the west side of the two-story wood frame house. An autopsy was scheduled to determine cause of death but fire officials said it could have been asphyxiation.

The cause of the fire was not determined but officials said they believed it started in a front living room. The fire was reported at 11:01 p.m. Preliminary damage estimates were set at $15,000.

Extensive fire damage was reported to the Fisher apartment and heavy water damage was reported in the ground floor apartment occupied by Danny Ver Beek. He was not reported injured.

Officials said Ver Beek was in his apartment and heard noises from upstairs. He saw reflections in the front windows of his apartment, that looked like flames and ran outside to see flames shooting from the upstairs apartment windows. He called the fire department as did several neighbors moments later.

Firemen said the second floor apartment was well involved in flames when they arrived.

Firemen found Fisher on his bed and applied mouth to mouth aid and heart massage in an effort to revive him. The efforts failed and Fisher was taken to Holland Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Officials said the residence was owned by Dan Geribo of Zeeland and that Fisher apparently moved into the apartment last July.

One fireman, Mark Dykstra, was injured in fighting the blaze. He sustained second degree burns of the hand and cuts. He was treated at the scene.

Sirens Function In CD Test Alert

Civil Defense sirens in Holland and Ottawa County functioned properly during a test exercises Friday.

The sirens were sounded at 11 a.m. today during a regular test exercise to determine preparation for the coming spring storm season. The sirens would be used during times of severe weather to warn of tornadoes or other local disasters.

FIRE ORIGIN — A fire which claimed the life of Leon Fisher, 39, Friday night began in this front room of the second floor apartment at 10 East 15th St. Investigators say the fire began in a sofa bed probably from a discarded cigarette. The body of Fisher was found in a bedroom. The fire was believed to have smoldered for some time before breaking into flames. Fisher was believed to have died of asphyxiation. Holland police and firemen were assisted in their investigation by the State Police fire marshal's office. In a related development, an occupant of the ground floor apartment, Harley Koopman, reported to police after the fire Saturday that a stereo and four speakers valued at $500 were missing from the apartment.

Sentences Are Given In Ottawa

GRAND HAVEN—Three persons were given jail sentences in Ottawa Circuit Court Monday by Judge James E. Townsend. Robert Kluitenberg, 18, of 892 144th Ave., Holland, had his former jail term reviewed but was remanded to jail on another charge of carrying a concealed weapon. He was given another 60-day sentence, to be reviewed in 30 days. His first offense was delivery of a controlled substance.

Dennis Brown, 27, Jenison, charged with possession of marijuana, with intent to deliver, was placed on probation for 18 months and must spend weekends in jail for six months.

William Barnaby, 20, of 295 North 20th Ave., Holland, charged with attempted larceny, was placed on probation for two years. He was given a jail term of 120 days, which is to be reviewed by the court after 60 days.

Eugene Batema 24, Holland, charged with larceny from a building, was to have appeared for arraignment Feb. 10 but failed to appear. Officers returned him from Phoenix, Ariz., and he pleaded guilty. He will be sentenced April 7.

Alexander Martini, 21, Allendale, charged with assault, was sentenced to jail Jan. 8 and had his sentence reviewed Monday. He was ordered released from jail Tuesday.

Two men were placed on delayed sentence status. William Petreloje, 20, of 41 West 35th St., Holland, was charged with attempted breaking and entering, and Ray Vander Meulen, 46, of 324 Central, Holland, was charged with delivery of a controlled substance.

Hamilton Man Robbed of Money, Dumped From Car

HAMILTON — A Hamilton motorist who stopped to give aid to an apparently disabled auto was robbed of $32 and left tied by his captives.

Allegan County deputies said Randy Dykhuis, 18, of 3671 Volkers Dr., was traveling along M-40 near 140th Ave. Sunday at 2:56 a.m. and passed a car stopped along the roadway with flasher lights activated.

Dykhuis stopped and went back and offered assistance but was met by subjects who ordered him to put his head on the seat and his hands behind him. The subjects entered the car, tied Dykhuis and drove to near 138th Ave. and 52nd St. where they dumped him out. The car was found abandoned nearby.

Deputies said Dykhuis managed to free himself and return home and call police. Officers said no weapon was seen but Dykhuis said he felt something pressed against his head that could have been a gun. Deputies declined to release additional details.

Youngster Darts Into
Side of Car, Breaks Leg

Damarys Vasquez, 6, of 36 West 17th St., was injured when she allegedly darted into the path of a car along Pine Ave. 36 feet north of 19th St. Monday at 3:45 p.m. She was listed in "good" condition Tuesday in Holland Hospital with a fractured right leg.

Police said the youngster darted into the street from the west side and ran into the left side of a car northbound on Pine and driven by David A. Lacy, 23, of 424 Pine Ave.

8-Acre Plat On Bypass Is Rezoned

Rezoning an eight-acre parcel at the northwest corner of the US-31 bypass and Central Ave. from A-1 one-family residential to A-3 residential (allowing townhouses and condominiums) was approved by City Council Wednesday night following a public hearing.

Dale Wyngarden, planning specialist for the Planning Commission, explained the planned development and previous planned residential development hearings. Originally, 24 acres was included in the request, but was scaled down since the planned development would cover perhaps ten years.

Henry Groeneveld, 104 West 14th St., who owns about four acres nearby expressed concern whether his property would be landlocked. This area is only remotely associated with the planned development, and Wyngarden advised some type of cooperation with other property owners when development of that area is concerned.

Al McGeehan expressed concern with density for existing schools and was informed Maplewood School nearby is one school designed for expansion and that this development is designed mainly for retirees, even though zoning cannot specifically limit such uses.

Dissenting votes were cast by John Bloemendaal and Elmer Wissink.

A revised electrical permit fee schedule, previously tabled, was referred to the city attorney for drafting into ordinance form. Councilman Ken Beelen expressed reservations on proposed fees but was assured there would be a public hearing before adoption.

Further protests came from Marvin Freestone, representing the Home Builders Association, who presented a position paper from the organizations. He said the association seeks to provide housing at the lowest possible costs, and pointed to South Haven action which waives or reduces fees on the premise a new house provides a new customer for utilities continuing for many years. He said some efforts should be made to reverse the inflation spiral on state, county and local levels.

Roger MacLeod, chairman of the Board of Review meeting this week in annual session, expressed concern over action taken by the Ottawa County Equalization Department boosting equalized valuation in the Ottawa portion of Holland city by some 10 per cent.

MacLeod said in reviewing local assessments as determined by the city assessor and his staff, the board feels local assessments as proposed are fair and he lauded the city's decision to take the matter to court in case figures are not substantially reduced. Meanwhile, he urged all Councilmen and all property owners to protest to all county commissioners.

He also announced a meeting at 2 p.m. today in Council Chambers to discuss the seriousness of proposed increases. The Chamber of Commerce, its industrial council and retail merchants division will be represented.

Kirt Watts, 18, of 16703 Riley St., demanded examination to a charge of breaking and entering at his arraignment in District Court Monday in connection with an alleged offense at the Ottawa Area Center in Allendale.

Watts was released under $2,000 personal bond. A 16-year-old companion was referred to Probate Court.

Ottawa County deputies said tools, television sets and tape recorders were missing from the center in a break-in Jan. 20. All of the items were recovered.

HOPE COLLEGE THEATRE — This talented company of Hope College students wearing colorful costumes that light the stage received a rising ovation at its rousing premiere performance Thursday night of "Godspell," a musical based

Musical 'Godspell' Given Enthusiastic Ovation

By Cornelia Van Voorst
The Hope College Theatre had a ball and the capacity house had a ball at the premiere of "Godspell," a musical based on the Gospel according to St. Matthew, Thursday night in DeWitt Cultural Center.

For the entire first act and halfway into the second act, a bubbling enthusiasm infused cast and audience alike. But midway into the second act, there was an abrupt change, the company turning dead serious and the audience too.

John Tammi's company of ten displayed excellent timing in this religious drama of age-old Biblical truths put into a contemporary setting with happiness and humor uppermost in creative innovation. Tunes of music covered a wide spectrum from the ballad - like hit tune "Day by Day" to hard rock. The musical ran a scant two hours.

Richard Hoehler appeared as the Christ figure, the one consistently identifiable character in the company, while the others, five girls and four men, moved easily from one characterization to another amid tunes and choreography.

This talented group represented theatre at its best in the finale which saw the Last Supper, the betrayal and the crucifixion.

A stark stage setting of a chain link fence backdrop on a tilted floor featured two wooden saw horses and two planks, which throughout the evening were used as innovative props in a variety of uses. Effective lighting provided proper dimensions for contrasting scenes. Innovative costumes provided color.

In the company headed by Hoehler who also served as assistant director were Lynn Berry, Todd Engle, Dixie Fair, Kathy Kemp, Bev Kerlikowsky, Paul Shoun, Eugene Sutton, Jeff Wiggins and Kim Zimmer.

Hope College's production of "Godspell" seems destined to be the prestige production of the current season. It is the third of four scheduled dramas. The last, "First Meetings," an original drama written and performed by students under the direction of Chicago Guest Artist June Pyskacek, is scheduled in late April and early May.

Director Tammi was assisted by James Nieboer as musical director; Richard Smith, scenic and costume design; Rich Rahn, choreography, and Jerry Bevington, properties.

Background On Holidays Told To Preceptor Tau

Preceptor Tau Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Jerome Hurtgen. The program was presented by Mrs. Robert Long. Two recent holidays were discussed.

George Washington was annually honored on his birthday while he was president. After his death, the day was observed as a day of mourning. Years later the recognition of his birthday became occasional and politically partisan. Finally, on the 200 anniversary of his birth in 1932, a commission was formed by Congress to plan a period of festivities which was to last from Feb. 22 to Thanksgiving.

The first patriotic holiday of the year falls on Feb. 12, the Abraham Lincoln. His birthday is celebrated as a holiday in 34 states. Today 17 states do not recognize the holiday, evidence to some observers of the lingering rupture caused by the Civil War. In only one succeeding state, Tennessee, is his birthday legally established.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Frank Bronson. It was announced that a social will be held Saturday, March 15, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Meyers.

Present were the Mesdames: J. Herbert Johnson, William Kurth, Gordon Cunningham, William Turpin, Fred Davis, Al Centolella, Ralph Stolp, Robert Long, Howard Poll Bronson and Hurtgen.

Cornies Corner

The current edition of the Parke-Davis Review is largely devoted to Holland, the local plant operation and considerable emphasis on personalities among local employees.

The introduction covers the friendliness of Holland, its history, civic pride and such attractions as Windmill Island, Hope College, Dutch architecture and wooden shoe factories.

Some of P-D's fastest selling products are relative newcomers to Holland's operations. There's Benzophenone, a versatile chemical that causes ink to dry, provides scent in many perfumes and soaps, and makes plastics break down, a boon to the environment. Another product filters out ultraviolet light rays, and there are 30 others to fill a variety of medical needs.

Benadryl is an antihistamine for which the Holland plant provides the active ingredient, and local workers fill 25 milligram Benadryl capsules. Then there's Chlorotone, Chloromyacin and two anti-convulsants, Dilantin and Zaronin.

There are stories and pictures on a variety of civic activity, Manager John Amaya as a member of the Board of Education, Chemical Operator Robert Dykstra as a member of City Council and Carl Danielson, section head in Chemical Production and Waste Disposal, as a member of Zeeland City Council.

Special stories cover Rich Por and E. Sienk who have their own greenhouses; Terry Greenwood and his interest in Community Theatre; Dick Van Dyke, big game hunting; Lyle Mulder, wine making; Larry Zuidema in the role as substitute father, and Wally Schuman, a maintenance engineer who won $3,900 for suggestions in three years.

Two classmates who attended the Old Ovens School in 1918 met a few days ago after an absence of 55 years. They are Herman Lodenstein of Wayland and Peter Elenbass of Borculo. Elenbass left with his parents for Minnesota when he was 13. The reunion took place Feb. 20 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hop who live on 104th Ave., near Zeeland. Wives were present too.

Don't forget that Tulip Time tickets will go on sale for local residents the week of March 3. Thereafter, office workers will start filling the huge backlog of mail requests.

There are so many charter groups visiting Holland during Tulip Time that tickets are exhausted early.

Hours are 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. The Tulip Time office is in the Civic Center.

Guard Hired For School Parking Lot

A Pinkerton guard began patrolling the student parking lot at Holland High School Monday in an effort to cut down on damage and thefts from cars and other illegal activities.

High school principal Fred Bertsch said the guard would patrol the lot from 7:30 a.m. until 3:45 p.m. and report to school officials activities in the lot.

Bertsch said hiring of a guard for the parking lot, something similar to what West Ottawa High School did about two years ago, has been under study at Holland High as part of a plan to control traffic, parking and activities in the parking lot.

Police Try to Convey Friend Image to Students

By Jeff Palmer
Except for nighttime walks to rattle locked doors, check alleyways and look in on bars, long since vanished and probably never to return are the days which saw policemen walk a beat, talk to shopowners and joke with the children on the street.

Children of the post-war era have been brought up to the view of policemen as authoritarian figures setting behind the wheel of a large, fast mobile arsenal who will "take you away if you aren't good."

The Holland Police Department has for several years been trying to dispel this stereotype through the use of police-school Liaison Officers.

Five off-duty patrol officers regularly tour the local elementary, middle and secondary schools to talk to individual classes and assemblies about safety, law and police procedure.

"Through these efforts we hope to achieve a better relationship with youngsters and get them to run to us instead of away from us when they need help," states Patrolman Keith Kleis, one of the liaison officers.

Programs for pre-schoolers and kindergartners are mostly safety oriented and officers use film strips and records as mediums to reach the children. Pedestrian safety and staying away from strangers are stressed to the younger ones.

COLLABORATION WOULD HELP

It is now official: both the Senate and the House of Representatives have select committees charged with looking into United States intelligence operations. For those who desire a thoroughgoing and reasonably apolitical inquiry into the intelligence establishment, this is both good and bad news.

It is a welcome development that the House, like the Senate, plans not to rely solely on the presidential commission headed by Vice President Rockefeller, but also to investigate the matter on its own. We would think it preferable, however, if the two houses of Congress were to combine forces in this enterprise.

Happily, Chairman Frank Church of the Senate investigative committee has already said that he will seek the cooperation of the House group. That would be good, but collaboration—a sharing of responsibility—would be better. Inquiry into the matter of intelligence operations is touchy. Short of a joint committee, the best way to deal with this would be through a close working relationship between the House and Senate groups.

What Does It Mean To Care?
Hebrews 4:14-16; 5:1-10
By C. P. Dame

The Bible contains many names and titles of Jesus. They all reveal something of the character of Jesus. This lesson portrays Jesus as the great High Priest who is qualified to help the tempted because He himself was tempted and overcame.

I, Jesus is the exalted high priest. He passed through the heavens at His ascension. On the great day of atonement the Levitical High Priest would pass from the altar outside to the Holy Place and then to the Holy of Holies behind the veil. Jesus the great high priest went through the heavens to God's throne. Although on the throne Jesus is ever approachable and sympathetic for He was tempted in every area in which we are tempted—to enjoy, to do and to get. Jesus is different in one respect. He is sinless.

Jesus was tempted in the wilderness and at times in His ministry and especially in the garden. His temptations were real. The strongest are often tempted the most. The purest are often the most sensitive. It is not necessary for a doctor to have had all manner of ailments in order to serve best—he needs understanding in his ministry of healing. The genuine saintly pity sinners the most.

Right here it is fitting to state that Jesus was also a prophet. The prophet speaks for God to the people, while a priest speaks for the people to God. Jesus was also a king—He has authority and rules over His people. We call Him Lord.

II. Take note of two qualifications of Jesus which fit Him for the priestly office. Jesus had contacts with people. He was not a hermit. And besides He was appointed by God even though He was not of priestly origin. He was called after the order of Melchisedek who was not of the tribe of Levi—look up Genesis 14:18, Psalm 110:1. Jesus offered Himself as a sacrifice once and for all, not for Himself, but for all the people. The Lord's priestly ministry was costly, it involved obedience, and suffering and discipline. Recall the words of Jesus, "For their sake I sanctify Myself." (John 17:19)

III. Knowledge should be followed by action. The writer uses several phrases, one of them is, "let us"—do what? To hold fast to our confession, that is our faith and beside have confidence and to keep on drawing to the throne of grace and to want mercy and get it and to obtain help when it is needed and to obey God as we experience the benefits of salvation. Seeing we have a great high priest who obtained for us a great salvation let us live a great Christian life!

Hawks Great Comeback Falls Two Points Short

By Leo Martonosi

GRAND RAPIDS — Hamilton's battling Hawkeyes twisted the Tigers tail here Tuesday night but couldn't quite pull it off.

A great second half effort by the Hawkeyes fell just a little short, as the Shelby Tigers ended Hamilton's excellent season in the opening Class C Regional basketball contest, 63-61.

It looked as if someone lit a match under the Hawks, as they shot out to a 8-4 lead on two buckets by Mark Naber and one piece by Jim Kraker and Dave Achterhof.

However, it was the Tigers that started the fire, as they scored 19 unanswered points to grab a stunning 23-8 margin early in the second quarter. The first period ended with Shelby in front, 16-8.

While everything seemed to fall in for the Tigers, it was just the opposite for Coach Wayne Tanis club. When Naber finally ended the long dry spell with 5:02 left in the half, over 10 minutes were played and that turned out to be the ball game.

Slick Gary Gosselin caused the Hawkeyes problems with his deadly outside shooting and quick passes. Gosselin, one of four junior starters for the two-time state champs, dropped in all 14 of his markers before the half.

Steve Baylo, a former Adrian College cager couldn't believe his squad was up by 14 points at the intermission, 33-19.

Whether it was a good old Knute Rockne (ex-Notre Dame football coach) pep talk or just an old-fashioned chewing out, something Tanis said to his team at halftime surely worked, as the Hawkeyes came out playing like their great following knew they could at the outset of the third stanza.

Kraker had the hot hand for Hamilton, as he fired in 10 of his club's 24 points to cut the Shelby lead to six points, 49-43 at the horn.

Fighting Hawkeyes Resemble Detroit Pistons' Dave Bing

By Leo Martonosi
HAMILTON—Six Dave Bings wearing a Hamilton basketball uniform?

If we didn't know better, we would have sworn that the fighting Hawkeyes looked very much like the great Detroit Pistons' guard here last Saturday night in the Class C District 73 finals.

Dave Achterhof, Jim Kraker, Mark Naber, Doug Koopman, Gary Immink and Matt Folkert, all resembled Bing, with pin-point passing in Hamilton's easy 71-48 championship romp over Bangor.

Kraker went "bananas" in the first period, as he dropped in nine of his 13 points to give Hamilton an "unreal" 17-2 lead at the stop. For the 6'11" Hamilton senior, the nine points were more than he mustered in the two previous tourney games.

It took Bangor over half the quarter to can its first field goal. Jeff Shine did so at the 3:57 mark.

The Vikings didn't die in the second stanza, as they outscored

HIGH JUMPER — Terry Coulter (24) of Bangor soars high in the air to take this shot between Matt Folkert (34) and Mark Naber (53) of Hamilton in the Class C District basketball finals Saturday evening in Hamilton. Coulter ended as game's high scorer with 22 counters but the Hawkeyes more importantly won the championship in a rout, 71-48. (Sentinel photo)

Doug Koopman ... plays 'best' contest ed Hamilton, 23-17. The Hawkeyes' brilliant Mark Naber, who broke the school scoring record just last Thursday, put in his first ladder with 1:45 to play in the half.

With Naber and Dave Achterhof tallying six points each, the Hawks increased their margin to 54-35 heading into the final period.

Kraker showed that Hamilton wasn't a selfish team, as he passed up a sure layup in shoveling to Folkert instead for a bucket.

The Hawkeyes ran in the first and third periods like last year's NBA's championship team—the Boston Celtics.

Koopman, Immink and Naber looked like Dave Cowens and Paul Silas on the backboards while Achterhof, Kraker and Folkert were like Jo Jo White and John Havlicek, in putting the ball in the hoop.

In winning their first Class C District title in six years, Coach Wayne Tanis' fire plugs poured in 17 points in the final eight minutes compared to 13 for Bangor.

Hamilton had great balanced scoring from Achterhof, Kraker, Naber and Folkert, who dropped in 16, 13, 12 and 12 markers in that order. Terry Coulter was a one-man gang for the Vikes with 22 points and 15 rebounds.

Koopman and Naber led the Hawks on the boards with 10 caroms each while Folkert netted all eight of his charity throws.

After being thrown into the shower, a beaming Tanis said, "It was just beautiful, just beautiful. It was one of our finest games of the year, as everyone just did a super job." Tanis called Koopman's game his "best" of the season but he also couldn't say enough about Kraker, Achterhof, Naber, Immink and Folkert.

It was the first district championship for Tanis, now in his third year as head mentor and the third in the history of the school.

Hamilton (71) — Naber, 5-12; Achterhof, 7-21; Kraker, 6-11; Koopman, 2-2; Immink, 4-1; Folkert, 2-8; 12; Overbeek, 0-2; Schrotenboer, 0-1. Totals 26-19-71.

Bangor (48) — Shine, 4-8; P. Wells, 0-0; Mitchell, 1-2; Coulter, 8-22; K. Wiles, 1-0-2; Jennings, 1-0-2; Johnson, 2-0-4. Totals 20-8-48.

Crusaders Tip Chix For District Crown

By Rich Wolters

HUDSONVILLE — Senior Mike Honderd of Hudsonville Unity Christian, scored the biggest points of his career last Saturday night, with two seconds left to play, to hand the Crusaders the Class B District crown, a 74-72 squeaker over the Zeeland Chix.

The Chix had overcome a 72-65 deficit with 1:55 left, on a three-point play by their leading scorer, Tom Kragt, which was followed by another Kragt basket, plus a field goal by Scott Gladfelter to tie the game at 72-all with 38 seconds left.

Unity Coach Dave Bos elected to go for the final shot, hoping for the win. They finally worked the ball in close and Honderd launched a shot which was thwarted by the Chix' forward Hugh Bartels. However, Bartels was called for a foul on the play, and Honderd calmly canned both shots, and the Unity Christian crew handed Bos his first District title in only two years at the helm of the Crusaders.

In defense of Bartels, it was a matter of trying to block the shot or allow a game-winning field goal, as Honderd was right underneath for a layup. In blocking the shot the foul was called.

The teams entered the championship game with nearly identical records, Unity at 18-4 and Zeeland 17-4, and the contest, expected to be close, turned out to be just that. The largest lead the teams enjoyed was seven points, Zeeland at 14-7 and the Crusaders 72-65.

The lead changed hands nine times, and strangely enough the score was knotted only twice, at 38-38 and 72-72.

On the fine shooting by Kragt, the Chix took a 22-18 first quarter edge, with Kragt accounting for 10 of them. Unity, with a balanced attack paced by eight points by their own fine guard, Jim Haverkamp, led at the half by a narrow 40-38 count. Haverkamp had 12 points at halftime and Kragt 17.

In the third period the teams traded points until Bartels gave the Chix their final lead of the game, 57-56. Haverkamp retaliated for Unity, Honderd added a free throw and Haverkamp another bucket for a 61-

57 Crusader advantage after three periods.

With Unity still on top, 67-65, Pete Talsma popped one in for the Crusaders, and Haverkamp converted on a three-pointer, for the 72-65 margin, setting the stage for the hectic finish, and the Zeeland heroes for Unity.

Both teams treated their fans to some good basketball, and even in defeat, the Chix can hold their heads high on the basis of their performance.

Zeeland tallied once more from the floor than did Unity, 29-28, while the Crusaders cashed in at the charity stripe on 18 of 30 tries, compared to 14 of 22 for the Chix.

Haverkamp paced the winners with 22 points, while Honderd and Brian Van Tubergen each scored 16. For the Chix, Kragt pumped in 31 and Larry Van Eenennaam 16.

Zeeland (72) — Bartels, 2-3-7; Van Eenennaam, 6-4-16; Huizenga, 4-0-8; Wabeke, 1-0-2; Kragt, 14-3-31; Dykema, 1-0-2; Janssen, 0-4-4; Gladfelter, 1-0-2. Totals 29-14-72.

Hudsonville Unity (74) — Honderd, 5-6-16; Van Vugt, 1-0-2; Van Tubergen, 6-4-16; Feenstra, 3-3-9; Haverkamp, 10-2-22; Talsma, 3-3-9. Totals 28-18-74.

Preserve Architectural Gems, Kansfield Advises

By Helena V. Winter

In preparation for the upcoming Bicentennial year in 1976, Norman Kansfield, chairman of the Holland Advisory Historical Association, urged Century Club members in Phelps Hall Monday night to take a second look at the buildings they pass every day.

Quoting the Boston city fathers, he said a city must preserve its identity just as a person must. "We need to retain landmarks as a physical link with our past; otherwise we will become a faceless city," he said.

Showing slides of nationally recognized examples of well preserved or historical reconstructed (much more costly) architectural gems such as Bullfinch's Anover-Phelps hall (1805), the Bruton Parish Church in Williamsburg (1711), Jefferson's Monticello in Charlottesville, Va. (1797), he flashed on the screen the Isaac Cappel home at Ninth and Washington (1875).

He said this French provincial and Italian home with its turreted roof, elaborate cornices, rounded upper windows and matching turreted carriage house — all enclosed in its wrought iron fence and gate — is well preserved now and should remain so as a valuable part of Holland's heritage.

He identified many other homes in that section of the city which his committee thinks might be candidates for preservation or reconstruction. These include the Essenberg house with its mansard roof, two Waverly stone houses on West 11th St. and Lake St., and the Bonebrake house on West Ninth St., predating the fire of 1871.

Others are the Stanley Curtis home at Seventh and College. Van Vleck hall on Hope campus (1858) and the home at 12th and Van Raalte, influenced by Frank Lloyd Wright architecture.

Kansfield was optimistic that the historical association might create an historic district within the city.

Club President Sara Jo Bolte read a fitting tribute and eulogy for Dr. Sidney Tiesenga, a past member for whom the club will designate a memorial book.

Three Hope College juniors, all music majors, performed the legato and vivace movements of the Robert Schumann Trio and "The Fairy Dance." They are Cheryl Blodgett, pianist; Dawn Engel, clarinetist, and Kathy Kemp, violinist.

Club guests were Mrs. Kansfield, Mrs. John E. Muller, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Van Kolken and Dr. Randall Miller of St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia.

The following slate of officers for next year was presented: President, Donald L. Ihrman; vice president, Evelyn Rietberg; secretary, Barbara Timmer; treasurer, Clarence J. Becker. Serving on the nominating committee were Dr. William Arendshorst, Mrs. C.J. Becker and W.C. Wichers.

Dr. and Mrs. J.A. Lubbers headed the social committee. A St. Patrick's Day motif was followed in table decorations.

Kiwanis Queens Are Told About Life in Uruguay

Marie Overholt, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hubert Overholt, was guest speaker at the February meeting of the Kiwanis Queens held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Brewer.

Miss Overholt spent two months in Montevideo, Uruguay, living with a family there under the Youth for Understanding program.

Through the use of slides and commentary, she gave the members a glimpse into the life-style of her adopted family, the school she attended, and the areas she visited. She also displayed the trinkets and clothing she brought back with her.

Miss Sylvia Nagy, who is now living with the Overholt family as an exchange student, was a guest at the meeting. She is from Uruguay and attends Holland High School.

The girls were introduced by Mrs. Overholt, a member of the Kiwanis Queens.

At the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Gerald Hui-zenga, the group voted to contribute $50 to the RIF program, and $25 to the Holland Day Care Center. Announcement was made of a Ladies Night with the Kiwanis Club on March 24.

The next meeting of the Kiwanis Queens will be on March 25 at the home of Mrs. Henry Vander Linde with Mrs. William Sikkil assisting. John Jonker will be the speaker.

Piano Students To Participate In Testing Program

The first local Michigan Music Teachers Association testing program for piano students will be held Monday, March 10, at Hope College.

To ensure a well balanced instruction for the private student the MMTA has set up the program in which a student is tested in five areas including performance of three compositions representing different periods in music history, technique, aural awareness, theory and sight reading.

The judge for the day will be Mrs. R. Hull of Lansing.

Local students participating are Anne Beery, student of Roberta Kraft; Evonne Den Ouden, student of Mrs. H. Van de Linde; David Van Schowen and Linda Wesseldyke, students of Dr. Anthony Kooker; Lynn de Velder, Karen Weidenar and Julie Ritsema, students of Mrs. F. Boonstra; Marcia Dykstra, Jayne Borgman and Tim Oonk, students of Catherine Hillebrands and Mary De Frel, Linda De venter, Sandy Gravengood, Daryl Berkompas, Lona Salisbury, Carla Pothoven, Roberta Rietberg, Fern Palma, Joyce Priebe and Jane Hofmeyer, students of Mrs. R. Palma.

The testing is made possible with the support of the Michigan Council of Arts. Students receiving a score of 93 per cent or more will be eligible to compete in the student day competition where the top 24 senior high and 24 junior high students from the state will be selected.

Local co-chairwomen launching the program are Catherine Hillebrands, and Eleanor Palma.

Holland High Excels in State Math Competition

Two Holland High School students were honored at a banquet at Western Michigan University on Feb. 22 for outstanding achievement in the Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition.

Approximately 22,000 Michigan High School students took the 40-question Part I of the test in October. Four Holland High students, seniors Richard Bosch and David Boundy, sophomore Charles Huttar and junior Mike Meyer, placed in the top 1,000 on Part I and qualified to take the five-problem Part II in December.

The final 100 winners and honorable mentions were announced at the banquet. Meyer received an honorable mention and Boundy received a Bronze Award with a $100 scholarship.

This is the fifth consecutive year that Holland High has placed students in the top 100 in the competition.
